Facts bank

Tapas are often paired with a drink. In some regions, especially in the south, the tapa comes free with your drink.

A true tapas experience often involves moving from one bar to the next, trying a specialty at each place.

In some tapas bars, you can order different sizes:

Tapa: A small portion, often served with drinks.

Media ración: A half portion, good for sharing.

Ración: A full portion, great for a group
